City Rat & Snake Glue Traps

Strong enough for multiple rats and snakes. Good for mice and insects as well. Use indoors or in areas that are protected from the weather.

Ready to use, Non-Poisonous, Disposable Traps

Nixalite offers these economical and easy to use glue traps for rat and snake capture and relocation. Each Stick-Em Glue Trap is covered with an ultra-sticky glue that can securely hold snakes of all sizes, rats, mice, spiders, lizards, scorpions and other nuisance pests.

Sold in a two trap kit, Stick-Em traps do not require any tools to set and can be placed quickly in any indoor or protected area. The traps are versatile and scalable - keep adding traps until you get the desired size. Stick-Em traps are used successfully by both professionals and novices.

To set the Stick-Em Trap, separate the two traps and place on the floor or on a flat surface in the area where snakes, rats or other pests have been observed. For large snakes and rats, you can join several traps together with tape, wire, etc. When setting the traps, it is recommended to place the traps along a wall or similar vertical surface. Pests like snakes and rats often travel along the edges that define the spaces they inhabit.

If setting the Stick-Em Traps in a dusty or dirty environment, cut entry holes in a box and place it over the trap or traps to help protect it from lint, dust and other airborne debris. If allowed to accumulate, dust and other airborne debris can coat the glue and make the trap less effective at capturing and holding pests. You can place Stick-Em Traps on top of beams, pipes, vents, and other suspended structures by securing them with string, wire or cable ties.

To release a captured pest, use vegetable oil or baby oil to dissolve the glue and release the captive pest.

IMPORTANT: approach trapped snakes and rats with caution. All snakes and rats can bite even if immobilized. Do not directly handle trapped snakes, rats or other pests. Use tongs or other devices that keep your hands away from trapped and stressed animals. If you have any questions please contact Nixalite.
